CLOSING SCENES OF LEGISLATURE

Delegate White Causes Scene of Great Cunfusion in House.

SENATORS ARE NAMED

Rev. Dr. Cannon is Excluded From Floor While he Stands Without Knocking For Admission.

Richmond, March 14.—The following measures were disposed of yesterday in the Legislature:

The House defeated the White-Hart game bill by a vote of 47 to 45, the bill requiring 51 votes.

The House defeated the bill for a co-ordinate college for women at the University of Virginia by a vote of 47 to 41.

The House passed by a unanimous vote the primary bill as adopted by the Senate.

The House passed the first fee reform bill ever adopted by the Virginia Legislature, with an amendment exempting Richmond officeholders for their present terms.

Both Houses adopted the conference report on the general appropriation bill, which had been pruned in conference to come within the maximum limits laid down by the Governor.

The Senate passed the Grasty-Duke bill abolishing the separate boards of trustees for the four State normal schools and creating a new board of twelve members to direct and control all four schools jointly.

The House adopted a Senate bill providing for the revision of the Code of Virginia by three revisers, to be appointed by the Governor from a list of ten chosen by the Supreme Court.

The House passed the bill creating the office of State Forester.

The House passed the bill placing heat, light, power and telephone companies under the State Corporation Commission.

Both Houses of the General Assembly yesterday afternoon adopted the report of conferees on the general appropriation bill, which has been scaled to be safely within the maximum limit allowed by Governor Stuart.

The appropriation bill was made eo conform to the original recommendation of the House Appropriations Committee, carrying a 20 per cent increase for pensioners now on the rolls without any change in the classifications. The bill carries $540,000 per year for pensions instead of $600,000 as voted by the House.

Richmond, March 14.—Charges were made on the floor of the House yesterday that telegrams had been received from Washington calling on the Virginia Legislature to pass certain bills.

Hugh White, of Rockbridge, offered to furnish the proof should he be called upon to do so.

Colonel Leedy, of Page, waved over his head a telegram which he had received from Congressman James Hay, asking him to support the co-ordinate college bill, which Colonel Leedy declared he would never do.

Chairman Aubrey Weaver, of the House Committee on Finance, said that he would yield to no man his opposition to the co-ordinate college bill, and yet, he declared, "If there is going to be any attack on Senator Martin and if his name is to be made an issue in this matter, I shall vote for the bill."

He said that he had received no telegrams from Washington and did not know of any one who had.

It was said in the House that one of the telegrams had been received by Senator Featherston, of Campbell. The telegram was said to have been sent by United States Senator Claude A. Swanson.

The storm, which was by far the worst of the session, broke when Speaker Cox, putting Delegate Houston, of Elyizabeth City, in the chair, took the floor and, as chairman of the Rules Committee, offered a resolution calling for a vote today on the nine most important bills on the calendar.

His resolution allowed only thirty minutes for debate on the Code revision bill, thirty minutes for discussion of the anti-fee bill, sixty minutes for the co-ordinate college bill, and correspondingly short periods for consideration of other important matters.

Game bill at 11:30.
Code revision bill at 12.
Anti-fee bill at 12:30.
Primary bill at 1:50.
Forestry bill at 3:30.
Franchise bill at 4.
Appropriation bill at 5:30.
Finance bill at 7.
Co-ordinate college bill at 8.

Hugh White denounced the schedule as infamous. He declared that it proposed a gag rule, and he called upon the House to repudiate it.

His principal objection was that it included the co-ordinate college bill in whose behalf, he charged, telegrams had been sent from Washington.

At once a dozen men were on their feet shouting for recognition at the top of their voices.

Delegate Oliver, of Fairfax, denounced Mr. White's charges, and, trembling with emotion, advanced toward the seat of the Rockbridge delegate, who turned to meet him, shaking his finger menacingly at Mr. Oliver and continuing to repeat the charges, while above the uproar could be heard the stentorian voice of Colonel Leedy, of Page, calling upon the House to strike the co-ordinate college bill from the schedule.

Added to this were the shouts of Major Stubbs, of Gloucester, who wished to raise a point of order; those of Hill Montague, of this city, who were trying to call the pending question; those of Lindsay Gordon, who wanted to be heard in argument; those of Aubrey Weaver, of Warren, who desired to tell the House his reference for Senator Martin, was such that he would support the bill if asked by him to do so, and those of fully a dozen others who wished to protest that they had not received any telegrams from Washington.

Delegate Oliver was declared out of order, as Mr. White had the floor. Mr. Oliver did not take his seat, but continued to advance upon the Rockbridge delegate.

The sergeant-at-arms was directed to restore order. He hastened down to Delegate Oliver and induced him to return to his seat.

Mr. White, thoroughly aroused, declared that he could produce the proof of his charges in five minutes if the House desired it. He declared that some telegrams had been sent to members of the Senate directing the advancement and passage of the bill.

Colonel Leedy produced the Congressman Hay telegram, and to show that he could not be influenced moved that the co-ordinate college bill be stricken from the schedule. His motion was overwhelmingly defeated.

Delegate Jordan, of Pulaski, then charged that the forestry bill was about to be railroaded through the House for the benefit of corporations.

Order was finally restored and the Cox motion put to the vote. It was passed by a vote of 64 to 11.

Almost without argument the House this afternoon passed the Williams bill providing for revision of the code. The bill carries an appropriation of $40,000.

The West fee bill was passed by a vote of 83 to 7 after the Gordon substitute had been rejected.

REPORTS ON SOLDIERS' HOME.

Suggest That More Funds be Provided for Institution.

(Special Dispatch to the Gazette.)

Richmond, March 14.—Two reports were submitted by the House committee investigating Lee Camp Soldiers' Home today. Both suggest that more funds be provided for the institution. The majority report was accepted by the House. It declared that most of the complaints were due to childishness and discontent due to old age. It recommends an extra suit of clothing for summer wear, more help in the cooking department and other things of minor importance. Both reports praise the management of the home.

STUART WILL NOT EXTEND SESSION

Executive Declines to Assume Burden of Prolonging Legislation.

WILL END TONIGHT.

Governor Calls Attention to the Fact That Members Were Aware of The Limit When They Met.

Richmond, March 14.—Whatever may be the final outcome of bills now pending in the House of Delegates there is no chance for any extension of the session at the hands of Governor Stuart.

It is understood that the Governor takes the position that the members of the Legislature were fully cognizant of the length of the session when they came here, and if the end of the term prescribed by law finds several important things left undone, it is no concern of the Governor, however much he may have desired to see some of them enacted.

If there is an extension of the session the full responsibility must rest on the Legislature, and that body will be forced to bear the burden of that expense to the taxpayers.

Several efforts have been made to extend the session for a week to two weeks, the members to serve without pay.

These have all been defeated or referred, which means that they will be defeated.

Under a resolution of the Legislature there is to be a special session next January to consider the matter of taxation, and that will be all that Governor Stuart will approve, unless he shall experience a decided change of mind.

The work of the session will actually end tonight. It may be that the House will be in session till Sunday afternoon, and that would be the legislative day if the House takes a recess from time to time without adjourning for the day.

A resolution has reached the Senate from the House "extending the session for a week," the effect of which will be to keep both branches in constructive session for a week, but there will be no attempt at enactment of bills— the time being necessary for the clerks to enroll the bills for Governor Stuart to examine them before attaching his signature. This is always done, so that by the time fixed for final adjournment there will be a dozen members of either branch in the city.

As a matter of fact, they will begin to leave the city tonight. Those from southwest Virginia want to go to Bristol to attend the convention to nominate a candidate for Congress. That convention will be held March 18th.

DOUBLE HEADER TONIGHT.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving remembrance of my mother, SUSAN F. TURNER, who died one year ago today, March 14, 1913.
Gone, but not forgotten.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.

God in his mercy has removed,
A dear one his love hath given,
But we can say, his will be done,
For thou art safe in heaven.

By her devoted son, Edward H. Reid.

IN MEMORIAM.

In memory of EDELL DUTY, born February 21st, 1911, died March 14th, 1912.

There is one who still will linger
Near the spot where he is laid,
And will come and scatter flowers
Over the grave that death has made.

BURIED MINERS ARE RESCUED

Brought From Perilous Position Twenty-Four Hours After Accident.

ONE TAKEN OUT DEAD

Rescuers Dig Through Forty-Eight Feet of Coal in Order to Reach Imprisoned Companions.

Tamaqua, Pa., March 14.— Two thrillers in mines, about 40 miles apart, kept rescuers busy Thursday night and today, with the result that three out of four men, entombed in pairs, were rescued alive, and the fourth was found crushed to death. His comrade, taken out barely alive, is dying with a crushed skull, but has been able to tell how the fatality occurred.

John Keske, and Peter Begam, miners, of Summit Hill, near here, were entombed by a fall of coal at the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company's No. 4, colliery, at 5 o'clock Thursday evening, and although it was thought the men were killed, a determined party of 30 set to work to reach them.

The work had not proceeded far when rappings were heard, signifying that the men were alive.

Gangs then worked incessantly until 6 o'clock yesterday evening, cutting through 48 feet of coal, when the two imprisoned men were reached, having escaped practically uninjured, despite their horrowing experiences.

Forty-eight feet of coal had to be cut throught to reach the men, buried alive for 25 hours.

Over at the Susquehannah Coal Company's Hickory Ridge Colliery, near Shamokin, two other buried miners were less fortunate by far, though their rescuers were quite as valorous and vigilant. A grewsome discovery was made by these rescuers yesterday, when Paul Poplaski was found in a dying condition in the No. 4 vein, while John Moraski was dead.

The men were engaged in driving a breast and did not quit as early as usual Thursday afternoon. A fire boss in charge of the workings went to their place of employment, inquired why they delayed quitting, and was informed that they were putting away their tools and would leave at once.

Taking the men at their word the official left the mine, satisfied that the two workmen would go home.

Before leaving their work Thursday morning Moraski told his wife that he would return early, having planned to attend the mission at St. Stanislau's Church last evening. When he did not appear his wife was not alarmed; but when he failed to return at 10 o'clock at night, Mrs. Moraski requested several young men to investigate, and they reported the mystery to the colliery officials.

A number of men were summoned from their homes, and, in charge of the inside foreman, and several fire bosses, entered the mines to search for the missing men.

They proceeded to where the missing men were known to have been at work, and upon arriving at the breast, heard a man moaning. Hurrying into the working place the rescue party was confronted by a heavy fall of coal.

Later, in a low heading, half buried in muck and water, they found Popolaski suffering from terrible injuries about the body and head.

Some distance away the body of Moraski was found lying in the gang way. Popolaski having directed the rescuers to the point yesterday.

Popolaski said they had met with a fall of coal and his partner was instantly killed, while Popolaski's skull was crushed and his lungs were pierced.

Hugh Green, 54 years old, of Girardville, was fatally injured at Packer Colliery, No. 5, yesterday. He was caught under a fall of rock. Hurried to the state hospital at Fountain Springs, he died an hour later.

CANNON IS EXCLUDED.

Richmond, Va., March 14.—Dr. James Cannon was refused admittance to the House of Delegates yesterday.

Speaker Cox had just announced that, to expedite business, the floor must be kept clear of visitors, and Doorkeeper A. C. Truslow was directed to admit only members of the House and members of the Senate.

Members of the press, were, of course, allowed to remain in the house and freely passed in and out.

Dr. Cannon, who has been a frequent and prominent visitor in the House, was late in arriving yesterday, but shortly after 11:30 o'clock he hurried through the lobby and started through the big swinging doors.

His foot had just passed the doorsill when he was stopped by Doorkeeper Truslow, and the big doors closed again with Dr. Cannon on the outside.

"I told him he could not come in," said Mr. Truslow a few minutes later when asked what he had said to the Anti-Saloon League superintendent.

"Speaker Cox told me to keep people off the floor and I am going to do it," Mr. Truslow continued.

The House was not in executive session. Members of the Senate were admitted without question, members of the press were not questioned, and the galleries were not cleared.

Dr Cannon did not ask to be admitted. He did not produce the card issued to him by the speaker, though in statements repeatedly published he has claimed to be a representative of the press.

When refused admission Dr. Cannon asked that a page be sent for a member — Delegate Pennington, — in charge of the anti-jug bill—to whom he wished to speak.

He returned to the door twice within the next ten minutes and sent for other delegates, but he was not permitted to enter.

PAY FOR ALLEN LAWYERS.

Fourteen Thousand Dollars Appropriated by the House.

(Special Dispatch to the Gazette.)

Richmond, March 14.—By a vote of 56 to 20 the House this afternoon appropriated $14,000 for payment of four lawyers who prosecuted Allen cases. It is appropriated as follows: Draper and Page, $4,000 each, and Landreth, $2,000.

CONDITIONS IN RIVER.

No Serious Results Anticipated From Thaw.

Danger of a sudden break of the tremendous ice gorge in the Potomac above the Acqueduct Bridge, in the vicinity of the Three Sisters Islands, was considerably relieved yesterday. Snow and slush ice that was packed and frozen tightly under the gorge is said now to be gradually passing out through the open channel on the Georgetown side of the bridge.

Early yesterday morning the fire boat Firefighter went to the Acqueduct bridge on orders from Chief Wagner to use its steel ice prow in breaking up the pack. As the jam is above the bridge, which is too low to permit the Firefighter to pass beneath it, the vessel could not be used. After clearing out the main channel to give the moving ice every opportunity to pass out, the boat returned to its berth.

The Vigilant, the police harbor patrol boat, went to the scene of the ice gorge and spent several hours opening up the channel on the Georgetown end of the bridge. Lieutenant Dean says the next few days will see the entire ice gorge gone.

Engineer of bridges McCoombs visited the ice pack yesterday. He said he feared no sudden danger to Acqueduct bridge with the ice pack broken.

MORE BLOODSHED IS REPORTED

LEADERS ARE HANGED

Huerta Threatens to Repeat Act of Nero and Will Burn Mexico City to Keep Rebels Out.

Mexico City, March 14—Following a revolt of the officers and men of the federal garrison at Jojutla, in the state of Morelos, loyal federalists from neighboring posts, after several hours' skirmish last night either captured and hanged or killed outright practically every officer and man connected with the garrison. This report was telegraphed to Mexico City today.

Because they were unpaid for a long period, four disgruntled lieutenants led many of the men in revolt. They killed their commander, General Alatrista and then started on a general rampage.

Huerta's troops soon overtook them, however, and after a spirited battle, during which a number of them were shot to death, the mutineers were captured and hanged.

Officers who escaped slaughter rallied a punitive force for law and order, and despite the fact that the mutineers had been joined by a band of apatistas, defeated them. The war office today admitted that all of the mutineers who were not slain in battle were captured and executed.

The Jojutla garrison was disgruntled because the men had not been paid for a long time. Discipline could not hold them, it is declared, from dissipation and excesses in the city, and they suddenly broke out in a flame of revolt.

A prominent Mexican in the capital today made the significant statement that "Heurta intends to burn Mexico City as Nero burned Rome, if ever the capture of the capital by rebels seems imminent."

GAME BILL PASSED.

Senate Disposes of Other Important Measures.

Richmond, Va., March 14.—Opponents to the Hart-White game bill triumphed yesterday, when the measure was defeated in the House after the patrons of the bill had agreed to many amendments which were local in their application.

The Senate passed the Grasty-Duke bill abolishing the boards of trustees of the four State normal schools and creating the Virginia State Normal School Board, which will direct the affairs of these institutions. The new board is to be composed of 12 members, to be appointed by the Governor, and will serve without pay.

The Senate adopted a rule that six objections to any bill would debar it from further consideration. This means that the Anti-Shipping bill and the Anti-Gambling bill are doomed to defeat, as they cannot be considered unless 27 members vote to suspend the rules.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY.

Colored Man and Woman Charged With Violating Internal Revenue Laws.

Deputy United States Marshal William Schoeni yesterday arrested Samuel Jackson and Osceola Atkins, both colored, in Culpeper county, on the charge of selling liquor without a license.

The accused was brought before Commissioner Garnett in this city this morning, when Jackson was dismissed. The woman plead guilty and was held for the action of the United States District Court in July.

Second ward:—Alderman, George H. Robinson and Robert E. Knight; council, Julian Y. Williams, incumbent; William Desmond and C. W. Wattles.

Third ward::—Alderman, Maurice Wilkins; council, A. D. Brockett, and Charles J. Sullivan, incumbents; James W. Bales.

Fourth ward:—Alderman, C. J. W. Summers, incumbent; council, Thomas Chauncey and D. Moxley Low, Jr., incumbents; Nicholas J. Lawler, Charles Bendheim and Julian T. Burke, Jr.

The meeting was largely attended. All of the candidates and a number of citizens interested in the election being present when Chairman Charles Bendheim called the meeting to order.

A considerable part of the meeting was taken up with a discussion of the Byrd primary bill, under which council elections will be held for the first time. The law provides that candidates must file their names, attested by two witnesses, sixty days previous to the date of the primary. As the name of the person with whom notifications shall be filed is uncertain it was decided that all candidates shall file their names with both the chairman of the city democratic committee and the clerk of the Corporation Court.

During the meeting the question of the legality of the notification of Julian Y. Williams as a candidate from the Second ward was raised. Mr. Williams wired the chairman of the committee last night from Wilson, N. C., that he would be a candidate. On motion of Howard W. Smith, a member of the committee, it was unanimously agreed that Mr. Williams name would be printed on the ticket although it was admitted that he had not filled the legal requirements of the primary law. Councilman A D. Brockett explained Mr. Williams' absence from the city and paid his entrance fee.

The committee fixed upon $3.25 as the entrance fee for each candidate. Chairman Bendheim announced that in-as-much as he would be a candidate from the Fourth ward he would not serve as chairman of the committee while the election was pending.

TO CUT NAVY YARD FORCE

From 100 to 150 Machinists Will Be Dismissed Because of Slack Work

From 100 to 150 machinists at the Washington Navy Yard are to be dismissed, according to Commandant Jones.

These men were carried through the winter under a furlough system, whereby each of the 2,600 men at the yard took a short leave of absence under an agreement between the yard officials and the machinists. Commandant Jones says that, with the passing of cold weather, the force is to be put on a normal basis.

Dismissals will start early in April. The cutting in froce, is necessary because of the slack work in the naval gun factory. Years of continuos peace have seen a steady cutting in the force since the days of the Spanish war, when three shifts kept the plant going twenty-four hours a day.

A number of Alexandria mechanics are employed in the Washington Navy Yard, and the intention of reducing the force is causing anxiety among such. Men residing in Washington who are employed at the yard also view the announcement of Commandant Jones with alarm, and say that their discharge really means banishment from the city, as there are no openings for them in other places in the District of Columbia.

Introducing the First New Styles in Boys' Finest Norfolk Suits for Spring-Summer Wear

For the past two seasons Norfolk styles have been coming into their own after a long and unworthy neglect. This spring one sees nothing else but Norfolks, and they possess a distinctive style and refinement of appearance that will immediately establish them in the greatest favor they have yet enjoyed.

Boys choose Clothing mostly for appearance—both style and fabric entering into the decision. One glance at our large displays of the new things that our designers have sent us will show you how handsome the suits really are.

And because of the fact that they are all Norfolks do not get the impression that the assortments are lacking in variety. Our designers know how to give distinctiveness and life to a suit, and have created many variations; single and double breaste: Norfolks are both here.

The new Spring Fabrics and patterns in all the wanted weaves and color effects—grays, tans, browns and blues, and in sizes 8 to 18.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

WILL REMOVE BULLET.

Rev. W. M. Clendenen, of Bristol, to Undergo Long Delayed Operation.

Bristol, Va., March 14.—Rev. W. M. Clendenen, of this city, eighty years old, and for fifty years a circuit rider of the Holston Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in Southwest Virginia and East Tennessee, will undergo an operation for the removal of a bullet he received in the civil war of Cedar Creek, near Winchester, Va.

Rev. Mr. Clendenen was a private in Early's division of the Confederate army when, by a stragetic march nearly completely surrounded, surprised and routed Sheridan's Union army at Cedar Creek, near Winchester, in October, 1864. In the first heat of the battle he was injured, and lay all day among the dead and dying on the battlefield. He says that when the yankees were routed and driven down the valley that looters came to search the bodies of their fallen comrades. He was observed by an officer, who bade a looter put him in the ambulance and convey him to the field hospital. The looter took him some distance and deserted him along the roadside, returning to his pillage. He crawled to a cabin, where a kind-hearted old man gave him a bed. A Union surgeon came there looking for a bed and, jostling him aside, occupied half of it with him.

Rev. Mr. Clendenen tells how Early, satisfied with his apparent victory and disregarding Gordon's entreaty that he follow up his advantage, turned his men loose to pillage the camps of the enemy. Sheridan surprised him by turning, and finding nearly all of Early's army intoxicated, defeated them with little resistance.

COMMUTES DEATH SENTENCE

Richmond, Va., March 14.—Governor Stuart has signed an order commuting the death sentence of John Bell, colored, condemned to be executed today for murder to a term of life imprisonment. The action was taken on the request of Dr. W. F. Drewry, superintendent of the Central State Hospital, at Petersburg which pronounced Bell insane. Pending an investigation of his mental condition, Bell's death sentence has been four times respited. He was originally sentenced to be executed in October, 1913, but was given a respite on three occasions by former Governor Mann and again in February by Governor Stuart.

Bell was convicted of murder in the first degree in Norfolk. He was a night watchman, and shot and killed Reginald Borga, a white man, on the property which he was guarding. He had disagreed with Borgia previously and was known to fear him. His sanity has been in question ever since the killing.

EPISCOPAL COUNCIL.

Meeting to be Held in Richmond, May 20th.

The annual Council of the Diocese of Virginia will meet in St. James' Church, Richmond, Virginia, on Wednesday, May 20th, 1914.

This change of place is made by the ecclesiastical authority of the diocese after consultation with the standing committee, and the date is chosen for the sake of having present at the council Mr .Monell Sayre, who will explain the pension fund plan inaugurated at the last General Convention.

The ground of the Bishop's action is the state of his own health, which seems to make it most desirable that he should be at home during this meeting.

CREDITORS OPEN GRAVE.

They Did Not Believe Virginia Horseman Was Suicide.

Bristol, Va., March 114.—Suspicious of the report that J. W. Harris, former Virginian and prominent as a horseman, had committed suicide in St. Louis on January 5, his creditors secured a permit to exhume the body.

The grave was opened yesterday and the body was identified as that of Harris. A Chicago woman, claiming to be Harris' widow, was here recently seeking possession of Harris' farm and other property in Washington county, Virginia, valued at $30,000.

WANT STATE CONVENTION.

Ninth District Democrats Believe it Can Be Made Means of Bringing About Greater Harmony.

Bristol, Va., March 14.—Democrats in Bristol and the Ninth District are in favor of a Stste Democratic convention in Virginia this year. They believe it can be made a means of bringing about greater harmony in the ninth district and that it will be a benefit to the party in the state.

A supreme effort to regain the ninth will be made this year. The congressional convention will be held in Bristol next week. It is practically certain that Hon. R. Tate Irvine, of Big Stone Gap, will be nominated, and the Democratic leaders, believing that they have before them the greatest opportunity to reclaim the ninth, are anxious to have absolute harmony in the party and an absence in the party of factionalism.

Despite his protestations that he is not and will not become a candidate, the impression in the ninth is general that Congressman C. B. Slemp will be the nominee of the convention to be held in Bristol in July for re-election.

Captain Ware, the conductor, was seriously hurt.

The train left Danville yesterday morning with a party of friends of the late Capt. E. F. Dyer, who was buried at the old Dyer homestead in Axton this afternoon. The accident occurred at 8:30 o'clock this morning. Only brief accounts of the derailment could be secured over the long distance telephone today. It was said that the wounded would be brought to Danville this afternoon.

BISHOP'S WARNING.

Tells Conference There Has Been Too Much Tendency to Commercialize.

Asbury Park, N. J., March 14.—The uneasiness over the assignments of pastorates covertly displayed among ministers of the New Jersey M. E. Conference now in session here was heightened Thursday when Bishop Berry, who is presiding, announced that "wholesale changes" will be affected this year as a matter of discipline. Declaring that the church is in danger of being "commercialized" because of the extent to which the habit has grown of grading the preachers according to the salaries they receive, Bishop Berry sounded a warning to the ministers and announced that many changes to be made in pastorates would probably not meet with their approval. Continuing, the bishop condemned the practice of churches sending out committees to hear ministers in other churches and then "bargaining with them to make a change with an increase in salary as a lure."

READY FOR COUNCIL PRIMARY.

The closing of the list of candidates for the Democratic primary to be held on May 14th last night marks the commencement of a contest that promises to be interesting. Twenty-two candidates have thrown their hats in the ring and they represent all the elements in citizenship in our midst. Collectively they are a splendid body of men who will serve the community to the best of their ability if elected from their respective wards. It argues well for Alexandria when so many representative citizens are willing to give up a considerable portion of their time to the interest of the city without monetary considerations.

There are practically no political differences between those who seek councilmanic honors. Alexandria is too firmly committeed to a program of progress and development to make an issue of anything in this conection. The plan of contributory assistance on the part of abutting property owners to the cost of street improvements, which was a bone of contention during the last few years, has been settled and is working out in a very satisfactory manner. Two disputed legal questions have been ended by decisions of the Supreme Court of Appeals All doubt as to the position of the city on the annexation question has been removed. The new high school building and the new truck house are assured, ordinances already having passed which provides for both of these needed improvements The liquor question, which some people would like to inject into the contest, will be settled by the State of Virginia at the state wide election irrespective of the wishes of the people of Alexandria.

As has been its policy for many years, the Alexandria Gazette, will not take any part in the contest, but will give all of the contestants the same fair and impartial treatment it has ever extended to all local candidates. The Gazette represents the entire community, its subscribers being from all factions and parties, and our sole interest is to publish all the news in connection with the coming election without bias. Any departure from this rule will be through inadvertance which will be gladly corrected if called to our attention.

The Gazette will be glad to receive at all times and publish signed communications in reference to any policies affecting the city which may be of interest to our readers, but communications regarding the qualification of any candidate will only be published as paid advertisements.

CLOSING DAYS OF STORMY SESSION.

The troubling of the waters showed no abatement in the legislature yesterday, and at times it looked as though the wind-up of the session would be characterized by personal conflicts. The Sergeant-at-arms of the House was kept on the alert while members pointed fingers at each other menacingly and advanced with war paint upon their countenances, and when the body shall have adjourned sine die today some members will doubtless repair to their homes with no good feelings towards each other.

An incident yesterday, recalled scenes of thirty years ago when the readjuster element had charge of the State. At that time William Mahone was one of the members of the United States Senate from Virginia, he having been elected by the element then in power. He was charged with attempting to run the legislature of Virginia from the Senate chamber in Washington, and his dictation became so apparent that a resolution was introduced calling the General's attention to the fact that he had been placed in the upper branch of Congress to protect the State's interests in national affairs and that the legislature of Virginia could attend to the affairs of the Commonwealth without any interference on his part.

The resolution was introduced by the readjusters, the party the General represented, and was the cause eventually of Senator Newbury, one of his henchmen, issuing that historic command, "This way, freemen!" It marked the death knell of the readjuster organization.

The charge was made yesterday that the present Virginia senators were inspiring, or desired to inspire, the legislature in its deliberations. This, however, was not proven—in fact it was shown to be baseless.

Unprecedented pandemonium broke in the house over a set of resolutions offered by Speaker Cox which were denounced by Delegate White, of Rockbridge, as a bold attempt at gag rule and as a device to get the co-ordinate college bill up out of its order for a vote.

Within a moment members in all sections of the hall clamored for recognition. In another moment the names of United States Senators Martin and Swanson had been injected into the whirlwind of the debate, it having been charged that a telegram had been received by a State Senator, Fletcher, of Fauquier, from a Virginia Senator, Swanson, in Washington advocating the passage of the cor-ordinate college measure.

Leedy, of Page, was recognized. He said he had received a telegram from a Virginia representative calling upon him to support the co-ordinate college fight. It was said by one claiming to have seen the telegram that it bore the name of James Hay, congressman from the Seventh District Colonel Leedy was asked to verify this report. He said that the message was sent from Washington, but that it came from neither of the two senators. He declined to reveal the identity of the author of the message.

REJUVENATION OF PALESTINE.

Close students of the Bible, especially those who study the forecasts of scene, have always been convinced that a great future is in store for the land of the Hebrew race. There have been times in the past eighteen centuries when indications pointed to the immediate fulfillment of the many glowing prophecies concerning "The City of the Great King," especialy during the days of the Crusaders, but the enthusiastic dreams of Peter the Hermit and his coadjutors were not realized, and even at this late day Jerusalem is still being "trodden down of the Gentiles."

In this age of remarkable transitions, however, many persons are having their attention attracted to the change in conditions in Palestine, and it looks as though the ancient Jewish capital is about to be revived, and to play a more important part in this world's history.

Although the Moslems are the de facto owners of the land, the Israelish race, that is the orthodox element, have always regarded themselves as the de jure owners and the Zionist movement of late years has been and still is championed by the descendants of the patriarchs, who are striving to regain possession of the land of their fathers.

What will amount to nothing less than a revolutionary change in the Holy City is involved in the plan soon to be carried out, to provide Jerusalem with a modern electric street car service and with electric light. The city is also to have a much needed adequate water supply.

In order to effect these movements the engineers have come to the conclusion that it is necessary to pull down the ancient picturesque walls and massive towers of the city.

The rapidity with which Jerusalem is extending, through the return of the Jews in great numbers to the home of their ancestors, has rendered these improvements necessary. To the north and west of the old city there have sprung up, within the last ten years, large Jewish colonies, populous residential sections, as well as convents, hospices, institutions, schools and other buildings, with the result that today there is a greater Jerusalem without the walls than within.

Four separate tramway routes are to be laid here. They will all start from the Jaffa gate, the principal entrance into the city and traverse the most interesting spots in sacred history.

The city walls, which have a circumference of about three miles, and rise in places to a height of thirty-eight and a half feet, are now being offered by the government for sale as building material. It is expected, however, that efforts will be made to save the isolated sections, more particularly the massive towers. Indeed, influential citizens of Jerusalem, have former a society, and are approaching the government with a view of preserving "David's Tower," which they propose to convert into a museum.

A motorboat has been placed on the Dead sea, and similar craft are running upon the Jordan and the Sea of Galilee, carrying both passengers and freight.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Two men were killed, and two deputy sheriffs and a woman wounded as the result of an attempted hold-up of a Chicago and Northwestern freight train at Manlius, Ill., 45 miles north of Peoria, Ill., yesterday. Arthur Fisher, of Pekin, Ill., engineer of the freight train, was shot dead by one of the bandits, and an unidentified robber was slain in a battle with the sheriff's posse. The wounded deputies are Leslie Byers, son of Sheriff Byers, of Princeton, and Bert Skroglund, also of Princeton. Byers was shot in the leg and Skroglund through the jaw. Mrs. Wright, wife of the station agent at Langley, was struck by a stray bullet, but it not believed to be seriously wounded.

In a speech before students of the Business High School last night, in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, Washington, Representative Carter Glass, chairman of the House banking and currency committee, and who handled the currency bill in the House, declared that New York, Chicago, and San Francisco will positively be selected as reserve cities under the Federal reserve system, and that Boston, Philadlphia, Richmond or Washington, Atlanta, New Orleans, St. Louis, Kansas City, and Minneapolis would also probably be selected. Representative Glass gave no authority for the announcement, but seemed to speak with considerable confidence. President Wilson said yesterday that the reserve centers had not yet been designated.

Charges have been made today that employes of the Henry Siegel stores in New York were the most unfortunate victims of Henry Seigel and his partner, Frank E. Vogel the indicted bankers. Every cent of the big pension fund, to which each employe had to contribute has disappeared.

The President and Mrs. Wilson announce the engagement of their daughter, Eleanor Randolph, to the Hon. William Gibbs McAdoo." This is the simple form in which this momentous announcement was given out at the White House last night putting an end to rumors and denials, which have kept pace with each other at Washington for the last week.

MILLIONS TO WIDOW.

High Tribunal Holds That Newark Man Was Real Inventor of Photographic Films.

Newark, N. J., March 14. — Mrs. Cannibal Goodwin, 86 years old, breathed a prayer of thanks yesterday at her home, No. 116 Montclair avenue, when she learned that the United States Circuit Court of Appeals had handed down a sweeping decision naming her husband, who died 18 years ago, as the real inventor of photographic films, and thereby throwing a fortune of millions into the hands of the widow.

"I do not care about the money," said Mrs. Goodwin, "I merely wanted my husband's claim vindicated. I always knew positively that he was the original discoverer of film rolls, and now it has been proved to the satisfaction of the United States Court of Appeals. That is enough for me."

Goodwin was rector of the Episcopal Church of Prayer in Newark, when, in searching about for an easy method of presenting stereopticon pictures in Sunday school, he discovered the film roll process of photography. The Eastman Kodak Co., took up this process, so the widow asserts, and the result was film cartridges and moving-picture films. Goodwin did not have enough money to fight his claims in the court, and was trying to raise funds for that purpose when he died December 8, 1900.

IN PUMP HANDLE'S GRIP.

Child Applies Tongue to Frosty Iron and Suffers Keenly.

Atlantic, City, N. J., March 12.—With her tongue stuck fast to a frost-covered pump handle in the rear of her home, at Smith's Landing, a day or tow ago, Dorothy Spear, 8 year's old, was held a prisoner for several minutes before her frantic parents could release her by heating the handle. Then the child fell fainting in the snow and was rushed to Pleasantville for medical assistance. Although she is still suffering tortures from her ordeal, the little girl is reported as well on the way to recovery.

The child was alone when she thoughtlessly placed her tongue on the pump handle, and some time elapsed before her screams were heard. In her effort to free herself the child sustained several lacerations of her tongue and lips.

We Promise You Relief from All Stomach Troubles Or Your Money Back

We honestly believe we have the best remedy in the world for indigestion and dyspepsia. We urge you to try it at our risk. If it doesn't relieve you—as we feel sure it will—we'll give back your money without a word. You know us—your family druggist. You know we wouldn't dare recommend anything we didn't know about, nor dare to break a promise. Therefore, when we recommend any remedy it is because we believe it to be better than any other to relieve the ailment for which it is made, and when we prove our faith in it and our sincerity toward you by promising to give back your money if it doesn't relieve you and in every way satisfy you, you have no possible excuse for doubt or hesitation.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets

are, we honestly believe, the best remedy made for Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all other Stomach Ills

We Know They're Good

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, in addition to other ingredients, contain Pepsin and Bismuth, two great digestive aids used by the entire medical profession. They soothe the inflamed stomach, check the heartburn and distress, stimulate a healthy secretion of the gastric juice, aid in rapid and comfortable digestion of the food and help to quickly convert it into rich red blood, and thereby into flesh, bone and muscle. They relieve stomach distress promptly, and, used regularly for a short time, tend to restore the stomach to a comfortable, easy-acting, healthy state. They aid greatly to promote regular bowel action.

Delays Are Dangerous

Don't neglect indigestion, for it frequently leads to all sorts of ills and complications. The pain and discomfort is not the most unfortunate part. The fact that when the stomach is not acting right, the material needed to repair the wastes that are constantly taking place in the body is not being given to the blood either in the proper condition or fast enough is far more serious. Nothing will cause more trouble than an unhealthy stomach. The blues, debility, lack of strength and energy, constipation, biliousness, headaches and scores of other serious ailments result from the failure of the stomach to properly do its work.

You Risk No Money

Our willingness to have you use Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets entirely at our risk proves our faith in them. We always sell them this way, and it is because we know that they have greatly benefited scores of sufferers to whom we have sold them. There's no red tape about our guarantee. It means just what it says. We'll ask you no questions. You needn't sign anything. Your word is enough for us. We know that when they help you you will consider it money well spent even if they had cost you ten times as much. If they don't help you, the money you paid for them is yours, and we want you to have it.

Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores—the World's Greatest Drug Stores. In convenient boxes—three sizes: 25c, 50c, $1.00

March is a trying month for very young and for elderly people. Croup, bronchial colds, lagrippe, and pneumonia are to be feared and avoided. Foley's Honey and Tar is a great family medicine that will stop a cough, check the progress of a cold, and relieve inflamable and congested air passages. E. C. Rhodes, Middletown Ga., says: "Lagrippe gave me a hacking cough for which I got no relief until I took Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and was soon well of both cough and cold." E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, agents.

When you buy Foley's Honey and Tar Compound because just a few doses stop the cough and heals the cold, one bottle lasts a long time, and the last dose is as good as the first. Mrs. SSS 20 Van Buren St., Kingston, N .Y., says: "Father had lagrippe and his cough was something terrible and he could not sleep. Foley's Honey and Tar not only stopped his coughing, but it brought back my voice to me after a severe case of bronchitis and laryngitis." E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.

The Open Door

The retail merchant who has Bell telephone service has an always-open door. In stormy weather and in sunshine the telephone provides a means of receiving orders.

Then, there is the convenience of it to the retail merchant in placing rush orders with the wholesale house.

Lastly, the telephone in a retail store gives that store a certain prestige over the stores without telephone service.

The regular meeting of the A. H. S. Literary Society was held last Saturday night in the school building at 7:30 o'clock. A large number of members were present. The subject for debate was: "Resolved, That the United States should recognize the Huerta government." Tupper Barrett and Otis Sunderlin upheld the negative, while, in the absence of either of the affirmative side, the critic, Mr. Prettyman, volunteered to take the affirmative. The affirmative brought their debate into the vital point that there was no government in Mexico to be recognized. In his rebuttal Mr. Prettyman, the affirmative, very clearly pointed out that there were only four things for the U. S. to do in regard to the Mexican question: One, he said, was to stand back and do nothing, another, to defeat both rebels and federals, and annex Mexico as a territory to this country,third to recognize Huerta and fourth, to recognize Villa and the rebels. By standing back and doing nothing, he said, the U. S would violate the Monroe Doctrine, which declares that European nations cannot interfere with the governments of the Western Hemisphere, and that the U. S. would preserve order in these countries. He said that it would be impractical to clean out Mexico and that the Americans did not desire Mexico as a territory. Then the affirmative said the United States were left to choose between Huerta or Villa. As a choice between two evils, he said, the U. S. should recognize Huerta, who has a semblance of government, and not Villa, who cannot even read, and who only has a few rebel followers behind him. The decision of the judges, Frank Johnston, Ashby Bladen, and Miss Flora Glasgow, was awarded to the affirmative.

The boys of the Society declaimed a selection from Julius Caesar as a drill in declaiming. At last the society had enough present to have the drill. The committee on writing a challenge to John Marshall High School for a debate, reported that John Marshall had not answered. The same committee was appointed to challenge the Randolph-Macon Academy to a debate. If Randolph-Macon accepts, the challenge the debate will come off some time soon. The representatives of the A. H. S. in the debate will probably be chosen by a preliminary debating contest. A motion to have the meetings held in the afternoon was considered, and after a long discussion was finally ended by a close vote in favor of not changing the time of the meetings of the Society.

Rehearsals on "Everystudent," and "The Princess," are still going on. A rehearsal was held last night at the school, because the players were unable to secure the hall in the Westminster building. Money has been borrowed of the Athletic Association by the Literary Society for the purchasing of the stage property The production of the two plays on March 27th is expected to be particularly good.

The Eighteenth had four hits during the week, in Latin, Algebra, Botany, and English, respectively, and have not quite gotten over the shock yet. The Freshmen ran them a close second in the number of tests this week, one class having three. These tests mark the close of the first six weeks of the second term. The second six weeks begins next Monday.

MARSHALL A SEXAGENARIAN.

Mr. Marshall to Celebrate Sixtieth Birthday as Guest at Hot Springs, Va.

Vice-President Marshall will be sixty years old today. He will observe the event as a guest of friends at Hot Springs, Va. The Vice-President left Washington yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Marshall for the week-end visit at Hot Springs, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Elder, of Indianapolis.

The Vice-President was given a surprise while enjoynig his dinner at the Shoreham last night, when Leon, the Maitre d'hotel, presented him with a beautiful birthday cake bearing his name, dates, and sixty lighted candles.

Mr. Marshall has succeeded in checking a plan to give him a cane. Senator Martine, of New Jersey, thought it would be a fine thing to give the Vice-President a present of a rosewood cane, with gold finishings and collected one dollar contributions from seventy-five Senators. Mr. Marshall heard of the plan and had it called off.

Mr. Marshall was born in Wabash county, Ind., a short distance from Columbia City, which was his home at the time he was elected to his first office, Governor of Indiana.

Severe fighting, in which the Italian troops killed 263 Arabs, took place on Wednesday in the neighborhood of the oasis of Seuetina, Tripoli.
